Sociology Advising Newsletter: February 26, 2019

Last Day to Drop most courses with no grade reported is Feb. 27

From the Registrar’s Office Calendar (https://reg.msu.edu/roinfo/calendar/academic.aspx), the last day to drop most regularly scheduled courses for spring semester, with no grade recorded, is Wednesday, Feb. 27 at 8:00 pm. There are no tuition refunds for course drops at this time. Courses with special meeting dates may have a different drop deadline. Please check the Web Schedule of Courses (https://schedule.msu.edu/), and click on the course section number to view the specific deadlines for any courses you are enrolled in. It is recommended that you meet with your course instructor to determine if dropping is an appropriate action for you. Also, you may need to meet with the Office of Financial Aid to see if dropping a course will impact your aid. International Students will want to check with OISS before dropping to be sure it would not cause a problem with their student status. Mr. Kania has drop-in advising on Feb. 27 from 1:30-3:30pm, if you have questions.

Summer Enrollment begins March 11; Fall-Spring Enrollment begins March 29

The first day of Summer Semester enrollment is March 11. Students have been notified by the Registrar’s Office of the specific date they may begin enrolling for summer courses, which is done mostly by seniority. Fall-Spring Semester enrollment begins March 29. Please go ahead and make a schedule and save it in schedule builder, then remember to add or enroll in the courses you have selected when your specific enrollment date is active. If you have any questions, please contact your advisor, Mr. Kania, for help.
